Hazel Fawns Weds Utah Man In Cardston Temple

Hazel Fawns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Fawns and Uriel Swenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Uriel Swenson, Sr., of Oden were united in marriage in the Alberta Temple recently with Pres. Willard Smith performing the ceremony in the presence of relatives and friends. The bride wore a lovely slipper satin gown with lily point sleeves and a victorian collar.

In the evening a wedding supper was held at the home of the bride's parents; out of town guests being Mr. and Mrs. Uriel Swenson, Sr.

The happy couple went on a honeymoon trip to the States and will make their home in Salt Lake City, where the groom is attending the U. of U.

Mrs. Lottie Graham entertained at a Rook Party Friday at which a number of friends enjoyed an afternoon of cards and visiting concluded by the serving of a lovely lunch. Mrs. Honnie Heninger received the prize for Top Score and Mrs. Kathleen Ball received the consolation prize.

Mr. and Mrs. Hyrum Fromm of Great Falls motored up last weekend to be with their father on his eighty-sixth birthday. Mr. Fromm who has enjoyed good health until just recently, suffered a stroke the first of the year and was a patient in the local hospital for three weeks. He is now staying with his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Deb Oler, though still confined to his bed most of the time as his right side is paralyzed.

While here, Mr. and Mrs. Fromm were the guests of the Olers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Thorsen (nee Colleen Ralph) of Bow Island were guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mutt Ralph over the weekend.

Donald Ralph, who is a patient in the Children's Red Cross Hospital in Calgary under, went another operation recently at which time the second pin was removed from his leg. His condition is much improved.

The Glee Ette Club met on Monday at the home of Mrs. Beth Walker for their bi-monthly meeting. There were fifteen ladies present for the evening of singing conducted by Mrs. Walker with Mrs. Connie Grant at the piano.

A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Anne Larsen and Mrs. Dorothy Nielson, co-hostess.

The Readers Progress Club met at the home of Mrs. Laura Hirsch recently to enjoy the review of The Silver Chalice written by Thomas B. Costain, capably given by Mrs. Edna McLeod. This is a novel of adventure love and faith with literature's greatest theme—the birth of Christianity.

Mrs. Berland Leavitt, a former member, was a special guest, and the assistant hostess was Mrs. Rae Smith.

A hilarious Valentine dinner party was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Mehew over the weekend. After the sumptuous turkey dinner Rook was played as well as other games. Margaret Bridge was presented with a prize for guessing that there were 165 buttons in a bottle in which there were 164 — another prize could have gone to the gentleman drinking the most pop from his ladyfair's slipper.

Those enjoying this evening of fun were the Jim Bridges, Doral Stones, Bill Nalders, Arledge Hills, Gerry Melchins, Howard Hickens, Barker Selmans, Derald Millers, Ross Mendenhalls, Don Steeds and Jan Heninger and Jane McMullen.

The MIA Young Ladies Stake Board met at the home of Mrs. Phoebe Dahl for their monthly Board Meeting Wednesday afternoon.

A very gay time was spent by a number of ladies Friday afternoon, the guests of Mrs. Donna Meldrum. The afternoon got underway with each lady providing some sort of humor, poems, stories, jokes, songs etc., after which Valentines were made from the supplies on hand which included catalogues, wallpaper, writingpaper, Christmas cards and such.

Two of Raymond's old timers proved that their memories were as good as ever; and better than a lot of the younger generations. Mrs. Lettie Bacon who is eighty, recited a poem, "The Curlew Shall Not Ring Tonight" which she learned when only nine years old and Mrs. Angie Nalder, who has also passed the eighty mark, told the story of the author of the song "The Maid of Athens", which is also a long, and old song, and then sang it, playing her own accompaniment.

Another number on the program was a solo "When The Sunset Turns The Ocean Blue To Gold", by Mrs. Alice Court. After more games and laughter a delightful lunch was served by the hostess.

The guests were Mesdames Viola Lamarr, Elsie Jaque, Fontella Hawkins, Alice Court, Nora Heggie, Annie Woolley, Louella Taylor, Clara Nelson, Sara Fraser, Emily Hudson, Charlotta Zobel, Angie Nalder, Margaret Moss, Bessie Allred, Lettie Bacon and Emma Nilsson.

Mrs. Monty Palmer, who is teaching in Salt Lake while her husband is interning at the LDS Hospital there, has been appointed to a Committee of four responsible for having Television put in Utah Schools. It is believed that this project was started on the suggestion of Mrs. Palmer, who both wrote and acted on the CBC School Programs from Edmonton.

Mrs. Phoebe Dahl was hostess to the Book Lovers Score when they met last week to hear the interesting story of President Eisenhower as reviewed by Mrs. Edda Brandley. Special guests were Mesdames Dorothy Dahl, Emma Dahl and Lottie Graham.

C., and among the featured performers in the all-star lineup will be Wayne Matkin's Symphonaires from Lethbridge, Howard Ritchie, magic and pantomime, also from Lethbridge. The Temple City Four, Jan and Ethel, Joe McLean, the Dixie Landers with music, song and step dancing. During the program there will be the added attraction of $80.00 worth of prizes to be given away to the audience. So if you are in need of a Pop-up Toaster, a cushion or a grease gun, as well as numerous other items, just bring yourself and your family to the Opera House, Wednesday, February 25th. The curtain will rise at 8:00 p.m. sharp so don't be late. Let's put this show "Over The Top".

P.S. All of this for only 50¢. Children 25¢. See you there.

When Jake opens his mouth The Kid listens, and so do countless radio fans from Newfoundland to B.C. town of Crocus, Sask., where the sense of humor is as dry as the soil and as unexpected as roses in a ditch. The above sketch is artist Douglas Stiles' impression of the prairie pair.

NOTE TO THOSE WHO MISSED THE BAND CONCERT

If you talk real nice to Wayne Greep he might let you hear some of the concert. He had a tape recorder there and recorded the whole show.

Master Ronny Pack, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mirza Pack, celebrated his ninth birthday Wednesday with a party for his friends.

The Second Ward Seagull Class were guests at the home of Carol Oler recently when they entertained their parents, under the direction of their teacher, Mrs. Hippard, with an enjoyable program, games and lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Meeks were hosts at a very enjoyable party held at their home Saturday evening when Rook and other games were played and pictures shown. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rasmussen won the prize for high score while Mr. and Mrs. Milt Strong of Lethbridge took the Consolation. Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Stringham, also of Lethbridge, received the prize for having the score closest to a previously chosen number.

Mr. and Mrs. Stringham showed slides of pictures taken while on a holiday in Mexico, which proved very interesting.

Other guests were the Arch Terrys and Howard Olivers of Lethbridge and the Orrin Turners, and Alma Sommerfeldts.

Catholic Discussion Group Formed

The young Catholic couples, under the spiritual direction of Father Sullivan, have formed a Discussion Club for this year. Bi-monthly meetings are held at the respective couple's homes.

Two items make up the agenda—a detailed analysis of "The Mass" and a book of guidance to parents on the rearing of children entitled "The Parent-Educator".

Meeting are concluded with a social and lunch.

Small, But Enthusiastic Crowd Thoroughly Enjoy R.C.A.F. Band Concert

The crowd that assembled itself at the Opera House on Monday night were very well repaid for their efforts to be there and those who were not there missed the opportunity of hearing a really wonderful performance by the R.C.A.F. Band from Tactical Air Group Headquarters in Edmonton. The thirty-five piece band was sponsored here by the newly-formed Sugar City Squadron, No. 565, of the Royal Canadian Air Cadets and played with the kind permission of Air Commodore F. W. Coleman, C. D., Air Officer Commanding, Tactical Air Group Headquarters.

After the official opening "O Canada" Master of Ceremonies Dick Kinsey welcomed the band and the gathering to the concert and expressed sorrow that more citizens had not taken advantage of the opportunity to hear this famous band and then introduced Flying Officer Corcoran, under whose direction the musicians play. The program got under way with the "Army and Marine March" after which F.O. Corcoran told the audience that he always tried to choose appropriate selections for the different places they play and proved his point by leading the band in Morton Gould's "Cowboy Rhapsody". "Voice of Spring" pleased all the lovers of the Strauss waltz as did Sgt. Jackson's cornet solo in "Stars in The Velvet Sky" by Herbert L. Clark. The crowd was so pleased that they called on Sgt. Jackson again and he responded by playing "The Bugler".

The youngsters from six to sixty, were given a special treat by the band's rendition of a medley of tunes that went under the heading of "Childhood Days", and contained nursery rhyme tunes that some people didn't even know that they knew. A special Leroy Anderson arrangement of "The Irish Washerwoman" led into the "Left Right March" which was the final number before intermission.

Before the band was put to work again Dick informed the crowd that the scheduled dance had been cancelled because of the lack of dancers. When asked if they would like to see the band return the gathering showed by loud and prolonged applause that they would indeed.

Back on the podium F.O. Corcoran said that it wasn't very often that they could play special requests but that Sgt. Major Percy Cope's request for "Col. Horey" could be done and so it was followed by Philip J. Lang's "Musical Memories Overture". F. O. Corcoran said that variety was ably item in selecting selections for the band, they tried to play some serious and some not so serious. In the latter class came "La Comparsita" from Royal couple on their tour from Toronto to Vancouver.

The clarinet section of the band got special attention with the rendition of "Dizzy Fingers" and the days of the circus and vaudeville were recalled.

At the last meeting of Miladi's Literary it was learned that $100.00 was cleared on their Doll Raffle held at Christmas. This sum has been divided among the Raymond Library Memorial Fund, The Library, Raymond Hospital, Children's Red Cross Hospital in Calgary and the Holland Flood Relief.

Mrs. Madalynn Smith, of Del Bonita, has been looking after Burn's Shoe Store for the past week while Mrs. Larson has been ill. Her friends will be happy to learn that she is feeling much better and is now back at the store.

by "Raggy Trombone". Sgt. Walsmely, the versatile piccolo player, and Xavier Cugat combined talents for an arrangement of "Cuban Mumbo" with the whole band assisting at the finish. "Night and Day" was also given special treatment with the arrangement done by Cpl. Holke.

F.O. Corcoran almost gave the secret of his age away when he said that he could recall the next selection, "Lady of Spain," when it was a top-notch on the vaudeville hit parade. Someone else got a special request granted when the band played Leroy Anderson's second selection of the evening "Blue Tango".

Back into march tempo came the band with the official music of the Royal Marine Corp "Blue Devils March" and Sgt. Walsmely got back into the spotlight to sing "The Airman's Prayer".

Dick came out again to offer official thanks to the band and to let them hear in words what they had been told only in applause before—that their concert was wonderful and that everyone had enjoyed themselves immensely and that when they come back they could look forward to playing for a full house. F. O. Corcoran expressed the gratitude of the entire band for the reception that their music had received. He said that the size of an audience was not all-important and that an enthusiastic few were more desirable than a great hall filled with unappreciative listeners.

The same old thrill ran up and down the spine of every airman present when the band played the "R.C.A.F. March Past" before the crowd arose to honor "The Queen".

The Raymond Cadets are to be congratulated for bringing this band to town and if the remarks heard after the performance are anything to go by, they should arrange for a return engagement as soon as possible.

There are thirty-eight top flight musicians in the group that was the feature band at the Canadian National Exhibition last year and each man plays at least two instruments. They come mostly from Western Canada although there is one from Scotland and one from England and a few from the east. Before joining the band most of them were other tradesmen in the Air Force. Fitters, riggers, aldrone control types are performing in the band for the listening enjoyment of others. Also for their visual enjoyment for it is indeed a sight to behold. Each man has from ten to twelve years of Air Force life and count among their experiences travelling with the Royal couple on their tour from Toronto to Vancouver.

F.O. Corcoran has been directing this band for the past two years and his outstanding musical ability, backed by many years of experience with military bands and other musical organizations, has been very apparent through the enjoyable performances by this band.

Congratulations to the Air Cadets under the leadership of their Commanding Officer Bob Zobel, may your endeavors be crowned with the success they deserve.

STINKWEED BEEF

Stinkweed flavour affects not only dairy products. During the past year it has been showing up in beef. Several packing houses in Alberta have reported stinkweed taint in well finished carcasses. Most of the animals had been slaughtered almost immediately after they were taken off stinkweed pastures, but in some cases the trouble may have occurred from feeding screenings containing stinkweed seeds.

G. R. Stirling, Supervisor of Soil Conservation and Weed Control, Alberta Department of Agriculture, says that practically all the stinkweed flavoured carcasses last year were from cattle finished on cover crop, and unless farmers pay attention to this problem, heavy discounts may be imposed. So far, the packers have taken the loss. It has meant that the tainted carcasses have had to be boned and made into various cooked products. But the packer cannot continue to pay prime beef prices for carcasses fit only for processing.

The remedy, says Mr. Stirling, is to watch those pastures closely this coming year. Either remove any stinkweed in cover crops with an application of 2,4-D, or keep the cattle away from stinkweed infested fields for a considerable time before shipping them.

CORRECTING THE FLAX MYTH

Many people seem to be of the opinion that flax is hard on the land. Such, however, does not appear to be the case, according to results of experiments over the past 60 years at the agricultural experimental station at Fargo, North Dakota.

A plot of land there, which has grown flax continuously without the aid of fertilizer since 1890, last year produced an average of 20 bushels per acre. A report from the station in 1898 showed the average yield to be 12.3 bushels per acre.

Tests made on the straw and chaff as well as the grain showed that producing a good average crop of flax removed less nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium from the soil than did wheat, oats or barley.

Cancer

QUESTION: Is cancer increasing?

ANSWER: More cancer is reported each year. This may be due to better methods of diagnosis and to the fact that more people live to the so-called cancer age. However, the death rate has decreased among cases discovered early and treated.
